
CORPORATE ADVISORY COUNCIL MEMBERSHIP

Strengthening and Advancing Women's Leadership in Foreign Policy and International Business

WFPG delivers greater visibility for women leaders across all sectors, opportunities for professional development, access to new contacts, and showcases role models for the next generation. Corporate Advisory Council membership is an opportunity not only to enhance your international knowledge and expand your networks, it is an opportunity to provide a corporate benefit to your up-and-coming women leaders.

Washington and New York offer access to countless international organizations like the World Bank, IMF, United Nations, the global diplomatic community, Congress, the Executive branch, and international business leaders. WFPG is exceptionally positioned to offer access to these communities. Our unique combination of high-level foreign policy programming, personal and business development, and mentoring provides Council members with numerous opportunities to strengthen and expand existing knowledge and networks in this ever-changing environment. Further, WFPG provides a platform to showcase your corporation and its support for current women leaders and the next generation of business and policy leaders.

PROMOTING PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Mentoring, Networking, and Facilitating Connections

Founded over 25 years ago, the Women's Foreign Policy Group works tirelessly to expand the foreign policy dialogue across political divides and generations, and to support women at every stage of their careers. At the WFPG, we understand that mentoring is a two-way street and we encourage our members to engage across generational boundaries and benefit from each other's knowledge. WFPG offers a forum where women of all ages can broaden their networks, mentor those new to the field and be mentored by those who have come before them.

WFPG believes that providing the next generation of women leaders with the tools to succeed is the key to promoting women's voices in foreign affairs and policy-making. The organization provides a professional forum for women to connect with one another. Our roundtable discussions enable entry-level and mid-career women to interact with leaders and role models in the international community.

As a member of our Corporate Advisory Council, you can ensure that your team will have access to the WFPG's rich global issues programming, mentoring conversations, and our high-level networking events. Through our programming, your team will continue to expand their contacts and develop their knowledge of international issues.

Early Career Professionals

Through forums, career conversations, 1:1 mentor matching, and our regular Young Professional Network roundtables, the WFPG provides entry-level professionals with the opportunity to meet with international affairs experts to discuss career path and to learn first-hand what it takes to excel in their field.

Mid-Career Professionals

The WFPG offers mid-career professionals the chance to represent their company at high-level substantive programming, to connect with fellow women professionals in and out of government, and to share their experiences as a mentor.

Senior-Level Management

In addition to our regular programming, our elite Council dinners and salons offer senior-level representatives the opportunity to engage with ambassadors and senior officials in intimate settings for off-the-record conversations.

Join the WFPG as a Corporate Advisory Council Member: Applications are available at wfpg.org/corporate-advisory-council. Should you have any questions, please contact the executive director at membership@wfpg.org or 202-429-2692.

About the Women's Foreign Policy Group

The Women's Foreign Policy Group advances women's leadership in international affairs and amplifies their voices through substantive global issue discussions and mentoring.

For over 25 years, the WFPG has worked tirelessly to expand the foreign policy dialogue across political divides and generations, and to support women at every stage of their careers. WFPG's frequent, in-depth global issues forums feature women thought leaders and news-makers. Through mentoring and career development programs, we connect aspiring leaders with role models, providing students and young professionals with the tools they need for career advancement. We are proud of our role in expanding the constituency in international affairs by convening global experts and creating a vital network of women with diverse backgrounds and experience.

Beyond the Headlines and Author Series discussions feature journalists and experts and focus on key issues shaping foreign policy today. Recent events have covered disinformation, Russian influence, US-Cuba relations, Rohingya refugees, US-Turkey relations, and tensions with North Korea.

United Nations and State Department Briefings highlight senior-level officials and provide a forum for in-depth discussion on current issues facing the UN, US, and the world. Recent programs have covered peacebuilding and gender equality and past speakers include Ambassador Samantha Power; Assistant Secretary-General Izumi Nakamitsu, and Deputy Head of UN Peacebuilding Support Barrie Freeman.

Embassy Series and Celebration of Women Diplomats events feature foreign ministers and ambassadors and are hosted at embassies and residences. Recently we were honored to hear from the ambassadors of Canada, EU, France, Germany, Italy, Ireland, Japan, Mexico, Pakistan, Philippines, Singapore, and Sweden.

Celebrating Women Leaders Luncheons honor trailblazers and highlight women's leadership in international affairs. Speakers have included: Madeleine Albright, Condoleezza Rice, Hillary Clinton, and John Kerry; UN Women Executive Director Michelle Bachelet; UNDP Administrator Helen Clark; and National Security Advisor Susan Rice.

Mentoring and Career Conversations encourage and support the next generation of leaders by providing students and young professionals with the opportunity to meet with current professionals to discuss career paths and to learn first-hand what tools are needed to excel. Programming includes annual roundtable Mentoring Forums, 1:1 Mentoring Minutes, and monthly Young Professional Network Career Chats and career-specific discussions.

Professional Development programs are held throughout the year to help support our members at every stage of their careers. Programs include skills-focused and career-specific discussions as well as our annual career fair.

Publications: Our Guide to Women Leaders in International Affairs highlights women shaping foreign policy around the world and provides an index of women from across the international community, including officials, diplomats, and UN leaders. This online publication is part of our mission to provide greater visibility for women leaders.

Get Engaged! Membership is open to individuals and organizations committed to promoting women's leadership in international affairs. Through our varied programming, members are able to connect with fellow professionals and to continually enhance their knowledge and contacts in this fast-changing field. www.wfpg.org
